Terrorists Grab Top OPEC Officials

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Six terrorists reportedly led by a South American ended a bloody 20-hour siege of the OPEC headquarters in Vienna today and were flown to Algiers aboard an Austrian-supplied plane. They freed five oil ministers and 31 other hostages at the Algiers airport, but held onto five other oil ministers as bargaining chips.

The plane, an Austrian Airlines DC9, landed at 11:35 a.m. and shortly afterward, Algerian Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika began negotiating with one of the terrorists in the VIP lounge of the airport. The latest demands of the guerrillas, who left three dead and between two and eight wounded in the Vienna siege, were not immediately known.

During the OPEC takeover, the terrorists urged war against Israel, a share in oil wealth for Palestinians and assailed Arab regimes who allied themselves with "American masters."

The hostages still aboard the plane included Sheikh Ahmed Zaki Yamani of Saudi Arabia and Jamshid Amouzegar of Iran, the two most influential members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, as well as the representatives of Iraq, Kuwait and Libya. Their guerrilla captors included a woman.

Freed were Algerian Oil Minister Belaid Abdesselam, one of his aides, and members of the Venezuelan, Gabon, Ecuadorean, Nigerian and Indonesian delegations. A wounded terrorist also was taken from the plane, in an ambulance.

In Vienna, police said 96 hostages were taken during the siege and that more than 50 were freed outside OPEC headquarters before the terrorists and the remaining hostages were flown to Algiers. Ecuador's delegation who was freed, Luis Roman, told newsmen, "I am sure that the leader of the terrorists was a South American."

He did not elaborate, but there has been speculation that "Carlos," a Spanish-speaking guerrilla who espouses the Palestinian cause and who has organized cells in Europe, headed the OPEC raiders.

The six terrorists killed three persons when they invaded the OPEC headquarters building in downtown Vienna on Sunday during a ministerial meeting of the oil cartel and opened fire with submachine guns. The dead were an Austrian policeman, the Libyan government's chief statistician, who was a key member of the OPEC secretariat, and an Iraqi guard for OPEC.

The count of the wounded fluctuated between two and eight, but they included one of the raiders who was seriously wounded in the stomach and was taken to a hospital for emergency surgery. The Austrian state radio said it had been established that he was shot accidentally by one of the other terrorists.

Despite doctors' warnings that moving him would kill him, the other terrorists insisted that he be brought to the plane "dead or alive." An Arab physician accompanied him.

The hostages included Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani of Saudi Arabia, Interior Minister Jamshid Amouzegar of Iran, ministers from Algeria, Ecuador, Gabon, Iraq, Kuwait, Libya, Nigeria and Venezuela, and members of their delegations and the delegations from the other three OPEC members: Indonesia, the United Arab Emirates and Qatar.

The Indonesian oil minister, Lt. Gen. Ibnu Sutowo, was not in the conference room when the terrorists struck, an Iranian diplomat reported. The chief delegate of the United Arab Emirates left the meeting Saturday, and Qatar's oil minister did not attend.

"What would have been the alternative?" Kreisky asked newsmen at a post-midnight news conference after announcing that he was agreeing to the terrorists' demand for a plane to fly them and some of the hostages out of the country in exchange for the release of the other captives.

"Should we have stormed the OPEC building without taking into account how many dead this would have cost? No. This you cannot expect from me."

The terrorists — five longhaired men and a woman — said they were members of the "Arm of Arab Revolution," an organization not previously heard of. They issued a communique in ungrammatical French demanding that the Arab world wage a "total liberation war" against Israel.

The communique also denounced "reactionary" Arab regimes who have allied themselves with "American masters," meaning Saudi Arabia and Iran. It called for nationalization of all Arab oil and demanded that the countries confronting Israel and the "Palestinian resistance" be given first priority in the allocation of the oil revenues.

Kreisky said the Saudi Arabian and Iranian ministers were on the top of the raiders' list for retribution if their demands were not met.

In Beirut, the Palestine Liberation

Organization denounced the raid and said it was an attempt to sabotage the Palestinian cause in the U.N. Security Council debate on the Middle East next month.

Kreisky said there was no confirmation of reports that the leader of the raiders was a Venezuelan named Ilich Ramirez Sanchez, alias Carlos Martinez, who is wanted for the killing of two French security agents and a Lebanese informer in Paris last June.

The Austrian television service reported earlier that the leader of the terrorists was addressed as "Carlos" by the others.

Iraqi Charge d'Affaires Riyadh al-Assawi, who acted as go-between during nearly 14 hours of negotiations, was shown a picture of Ramirez and said there was no similarity to any of the terrorists.

Pentagon Freezes Hiring, Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is starting to freeze civilian employe hiring and promotions, foreshadowing new personnel cutbacks under President Ford's defense budget for next year.

The Defense Department confirmed reports of a hiring-promotion freeze affecting more than 2,000 workers in the offices of the secretary of defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. It said the move was taken "in anticipation of reductions of personnel in the coming fiscal year."

It was learned that the Defense Supply Agency, which employs 51,000, has imposed a similar freeze. Other defense agencies, the Army, Navy and Air Force departments are expected to follow suit.

The White House Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has proposed cutting the Defense Department's civilian payroll by 48,000, along with a reduction of some 37,000 in military strength, next year.

That proposal was part of a package recommended by OMB to trim next year's defense program to about $110 billion in budget authority.

Ford recently agreed to boost that total by about $2.6 billion at the urging of Secretary of Defense Donald H. Rumsfeld and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Pentagon officials say the number of personnel cuts to be imposed under the revised budget package still is being worked out.

Defense personnel costs have been climbing significantly in recent years even while the civilian work force and military manpower strength have gone down. These costs account for more than half the total defense budget.

The upward trend has been spurred by congressionally enacted pay boosts.

Ford's new defense budget will not be in final form for perhaps a couple of weeks. It probably will be sent to Congress in late January.

occurred on the plane's second approach to the airport.

The jetliner hit the ground off the runway, and the airline said the impact caused a number of breaks in the fuselage.

Police said the plane had touched down on the main runway but zigzagged on impact, damaging its undercarriage and shearing off part of the right wing.

The craft ended up off the runway, on an asphalt strip used for helicopters.

Many passengers escaped from the plane through the crack caused by the wing detachment.

The dense fog blanketing this northern industrial city had reduced visibility sharply since Sunday.

The Boeing 707, on Flight 842, was attempting to land in dense fog at the airport 24 miles north of Milan.

Pope Backs Palestinians

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appealed to the Israeli people today to "recognize the rights and legitimate aspirations" of Palestinians.

It was the most direct and outright appeal made by the Pope so far on the Palestinian problem in the Middle East.

He spoke during his traditional Christmas meeting with members of the College of Cardinals.

"Even if we are well aware of the tragedies not so long ago which have compelled the Jewish people to seek a secure and protected garrison in a proper sovereign and independent state — and because we are properly aware of this — we would like to invite the children of this people to recognize the rights and legitimate aspirations of another people which also has suffered for a long time, the people of Palestine."

The Pope, speaking in Italian, also appealed to all sides involved in the Middle East conflict to "avoid useless and dangerous extreme positions and to put an end particularly to the voice of terrorism and indiscriminate reprisals."

Those sides, the Pope added, "must try to advance a dialogue in the appropriate ways and sites."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government spending does not present a problem to the economy, but recovery from recession may be in serious trouble without major changes in federal policy, says the staff of a congressional budget committee.

The staff of the Joint Economic Committee, in a report to House and Senate budget panels, said its study of the fiscal outlook for the next five years shows that "the federal budget is not out of control."

But it said its investigation into the effects of federal budget restrictions proposed by President Ford showed that the economy could suffer a setback and that major policy changes are needed if economic recovery is to continue.

Without policy changes, the report said, "the recovery is likely to sputter

Columbia Gas Slates Rate Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Residential gas bills will increase slightly beginning in February, Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., company officials said Friday.

James Fullin, counsel for the utility, said the increase is needed to offset the expense of emergency gas purchases for the winter.

For most residential users, the additional charge through the fuel adjustment clause will be 75 cents to one dollar a month, Fullin said.

The additional costs, which will also be applied on commercial and industrial billings, are to offset $36.2 million in emergency purchases of highpriced "intrastate" gas from producers in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Columbia's acquisition of 13.8 billion cubic feet of gas has reduced commercial and industrial curtailments to 20 per cent of normal supply, with the exception of large industrial boilers, which remain under 100 per cent curtailments. Earlier estimates of curtailment percentages for the winter months had been several times that figure.

The difference in the price for the intrastate gas is because it does not come under federal price controls, the spokesman explained.

Columbia had asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to authorize charging only commercial and industrial customers for the costlier gas. But, Fullin said, Columbia later decided to recoup their expense through the fuel adjustment clause, after utility commissioners deferred action on their request.

The increase will continue 12 months, Fullin said.

out by 1977, leaving unemployment on a very high plateau."

The report, released on Sunday, was particularly critical of Ford's proposal to clamp a ceiling of $395 billion on federal spending for fiscal 1977, which begins next October.

It said that if reduced 1975 income tax rates are not extended into 1977 and if Congress approves Ford's spending ceiling, unemployment will rise to an average of 8.7 per cent, the rate of the nation's real economic growth will fall below 2 per cent and inflation will be higher than with a more liberal spending policy.

Ford says he will sign a compromise bill extending tax cuts for 1975 into the first six months of 1976. He did not get Congress to approve his plan for the spending ceiling for fiscal 1977 but says he will insist that it be included in next year's budget.

"From a reading of this report, I conclude the President's budget policy is a disaster," said Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, chairman of the joint committee. "It is incredible that the President of the United States is willing to advocate policies which could lead to rising unemployment at a time when the unemployment rate is already above 8 per cent."

The staff report to the budget panel said that if the 1975 tax cuts are not extended through 1977 the unemployment rate could be expected to rise by three-tenths of 1 per cent.

"Without new policies, tax receipts will exceed outlays by 1981 in spite of extremely high unemployment rates," the report said. And, it said, budget estimates based on a 4 per cent unemployment rate "indicate that by 1981 a full-employment surplus of $66 billion will be available for division among new programs, tax reductions and contributions to the actual budget surplus."

TWA Jet Crashes In Italy; 2 Passengers Seriously Hurt

MILAN, Italy (AP) — A Trans World Airlines jetliner on a flight from San Francisco and New York crashed today as it was landing in thick fog at Milan's Malpensa airport with more than 100 persons aboard, but TWA said no one was killed.

An airline spokesman said two passengers were injured seriously, but most of the passengers "walked to the terminal building themselves."

A TWA official in New York said there were 113 passengers and nine crew members aboard. Officials in Milan said first reports indicated there were 106 passengers and nine crew members.

Police said a fire developed after the crash but was quickly put out.

The Boeing 707, on Flight 842, was attempting to land in dense fog at the airport 24 miles north of Milan.

Votes Tabulated At Fort Wayne

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Votes are still being tabulated here where about 600 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers voted Sunday on a contract proposal. The workers are employed by the General Telephone Co.

A spokesman for Local 723 said a strike would start Tuesday if the latest offer is not approved.

Two weeks ago, the IBEW rejected a contract proposal which would have provided wage increases of between 15 and 20 per cent. The terms of the latest offer are not available.

General Telephone services Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and areas in northeastern Indiana.

William Lundigan Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor William Lundigan, who made more than 125 movies before beginning a career in television, died Saturday at age 61 after a lengthy illness. Lundigan's film credits included "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain," in which he costarred with Susan Hayward.

CAROLING AT COURTHOUSE — Students and instructors at the Brooks-Yates School sang Christmas Carols at the Pickaway County Courthouse. Clark Hunsicker was guitarist for the group. Teachers participating were Elisa Parrot, Jane Hamman, Roberta Wylie, and Leslie Pools. Aides were Phyllis England, Freda White, Marlene Bogard, Jo Ann Fox, and Gloria VanGundy, the bus driver.

Heavy Snow Buries New England

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eastern New England was under a fresh foot of snow today and expecting as much as another foot tonight.

ROUNDTOWN

A CHRISTMAS facelift has brightened up the county engineer's office in the basement of the courthouse. . . . For the past several days, Henry T. McCrady and his staff have suffered through fumes from all kinds of paints and cleaning compounds but the discomfort was worth it because now the office sparkles with a fresh coat of paint and gleaming tile walls.

THE county auditor's office has a Christmas card the girls received this year from the county treasurer's office. . . . That fact in itself isn't significant except that the very same card was first mailed to the treasurer by Margaret Remy in 1968. . . . The following year, the staff of Robert Wood's office signed the card and returned it to the auditor's office. . . . in this way, the card has greeted the two offices alternately for the past seven years.

Appropriately, it's the first day of winter.

Heavy snow warnings, originally confined to southern New England, were extended northward to southern New Hampshire and southern and central Maine, the National Weather Service said.

The snow that fell Saturday and Sunday upset holiday traveling plans. Driving conditions on major highways were described as treacherous. Logan International Airport was closed for about eight hours Sunday.

In eastern New York and northern New Jersey, freezing rain with sleet made travel hazardous early today. Two to four inches of new snow was expected during the day.

Gale warnings were in effect along the northern Atlantic coast through New Jersey. Winds were expected to reach about 45 miles per hour this morning in New Jersey. Tides were expected to run three feet above normal as the storm passes offshore, and moderate tidal flooding along the northern Atlantic coast was expected this morning.

In the Southeast, a frost or freeze warning was in effect this morning for central and south-central portions of Florida with frost scattered in the north.

Rainshowers were scattered from western portions of Kansas and Oklahoma into southwestern Texas. Rain also continued along the western portions of the Pacific coast from the Northwest to the central California coast. It was snow in the higher elevations.

There are clear skies in the extreme Southeast, the eastern Ohio valley, the upper Missouri River valley and the southwestern plateau.

Temperatures overnight ranged from 64 at Key West, Fla. to nine below zero at Lansing, Mich.

Weather

Sunny and a little warmer today, high in the mid 30s, clear and cold today with a low in the middle to upper teens, and clear and warmer tomorrow with a high in the mid to upper 30s. High Saturday was 37 and the low was 21. High Sunday was 25 and the low was 10.

Hollywood Police Hit Sex-Oriented Stores

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police are driving out sex-oriented stores on the fringes of Hollywood by using a 1913 law to warn prospective customers their names may come up in court if they enter the places.

The crackdown is taking place on Western Avenue, a once-thriving shopping area bisecting Sunset and Hollywood boulevards, which has been infiltrated and gradually dominated in recent years by a score of massage parlors, theaters and shops offering adult books, nude wrestling and sexual encounters.

The parlors were particularly active in the summer, when women dressed in scanty bikinis sat in the doorways, knitting, reading or talking quietly but always dispassionately returning the bold stares, the furtive glances, the casual inspections. Hard rock music poured from the dark interiors, while low red and blue lights lent a modern-day mood to the establishments.

Now blue uniformed policemen stand in place of customers.

Three weeks ago, following pressure from city officials, businessmen and citizens' groups who claimed the shops were little more than fronts for prostitution, Police Chief Ed Davis instituted "Operation Rubout," stationing a task force of officers outside the sex shops.

Using the 1913 Red Light Abatement Act, the officers ask prospective customers for identification and tell them that if they enter the stores they might be called as witnesses in future court cases. That resulted in a reported 90 per cent drop in business for some shops, along with protests of harassment and intimidation from the owners.

Dirty Sally's and Mother's Fun Palace shut down, but the Hollywood Fox Club and the Palace of Love are fighting to remain in business. Superior Court Judge Harry L. Hupp, acting on a motion from the two, ordered police to restrict their procedures somewhat but did not order them to curtail them entirely.

"What you're seeing here are the landlords getting wise," says Sgt.

Police Nab 163 At Night Club

A Page Of Opinion

Energy Cave-In

After wrangling over the energy question for a full year, in the closing days of this session the best Congress was able to produce was a bill which provides an incentive to increase fuel consumption through lower prices now and somewhat higher prices in the next few years.

Legislation such as this will do nothing to reduce the growing dependence upon imported oil, nor does it provide incentives for either exploring for more fossil fuels or developing alternate sources of energy. It was a solution which in reality was no solution at all, but rather a piece of legislation concocted with one eye on the elections coming up less than a year from now.

Certainly higher fuel prices, no matter how contrived, will win no popularity contests. But by not providing a base from which to begin rebuilding depleted reserves or alternate sources or both Congress has virtually assured not only higher prices in the future but a greater dependence upon highly unreliable sources of supply.

That kind of legislation merely postpones the day of reckoning and very possibly will make it more difficult to contend with when it arrives. The congressional response has been no meaningful response at all.

Certainly the administration's "energy independence" plan was overly optimistic. With 40 per cent of the petroleum consumed in the United States obtained from imports, nothing short of a miracle could attain independence from foreign suppliers in the foreseeable future. But at least an optimistic goal is a better objective than none at all.

Christmas Morning

By JIM BISHOP

The boy walked against the wind. It pulled his cheeks back in a wintry smile. His mittened hands were deep in his pockets. Powdered snow whirled in small cyclones against the cold sun.

It was Christmas morning. He rubbed the back of his mitten against his nose. He didn't mind, he told himself. Someone had to work on this day. Secretly, he felt privileged to report for duty.

A newspaper reporter must start somewhere. He crossed the street into the blue shadows. The old Gazette Building was plastered with patches of snow in the doorway and around the window frames.

He made the squeaky steps two at a time. The boy felt important because he had been entrusted with a key. The city editor had given it to him. "Be in here at eight," the city editor had said. "Clean up the city room. A telegrapher will be in at nine - if he's sober."

The door to the editorial department was unlocked. The young man unbuckled the big overshoes and left them inside against the wall. He unbuttoned the heavy mackinaw and hung it on a clothes tree. For the first time, he was important. He was the only person on hand to cover a truly big story.

The room smelled of old dust and smoke. The front windows were veiled in grime. Two rows of typewriters sat silent, waiting for harsh fingers. A cheese sandwich curled at the edges.

A half-empty container of coffee bled on a table. Overall was a tremendous silence. The boy could hear his excited heart beat. Yesterday, this room had been a bedlam of typewriters, shouts and the thunder of presses below.

The noise had spawned a newspaper. Now it was on the floor, dead, forgotten, unwanted. His eyes were shiny as they fanned the room - the long galleys, polished spikes, phones, page dummies, a few slugs of metal.

He felt an affection for the debris. Someday he would be a newspaperman. He would command the respect of his peers; politicians would tremble at his questions; he might even write a more touching story than "A Christmas Carol."

The boy was dreaming. The square room would not clean itself. He was thinking about the coded dots and dashes of the Associated Press and the operators who typed masterpieces from all over the world.

Yesterday, he stood behind an operator and, as the dashes and flashes sounded through an empty tobacco tin, he watched the fingers type:

World Production Of Fats, Vegetable Oils Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — World production of vegetable fats and oils used for cooking and as ingredients for much of what people eat is expected to rise sharply next year, meaning stiffer competition for U.S. farmers who grow soybeans and other oilseed crops, an Agriculture Department analyst said today.

Alan E. Holz, a foreign commodity expert in the department's Foreign Agricultural Service, said world production is estimated at 48.6 million metric tons, up 2.9 million or 6 per cent from 1975 output. Most of the gain will be in foreign production.

"The United States is obviously no longer 'the only store in town,' and foreign customers are sure to be shopping around," Holz said in a weekly issue of Foreign Agriculture published by his agency.

Even so, demand for more fats and oils is rising and that will mean some improvement in U.S. exports of soybeans, soybean oil and similar products, he said. Those could total about 4.25 million tons, on the basis of oil equivalent, up slightly from 1975 exports.

There are 2,205 pounds in a metric ton. It takes about 36.7 bushels of soybeans to equal a ton, and each bushel is capable of producing 10.7 pounds of oil and 47.5 pounds of meal, on the average. Thus oil plays a significant role in over-all soybean demand and how much farmers get for their crop.

Soybean meal, of course, is a protein-rich supplement used commonly in livestock feed in many of the developed countries and in the United States for poultry and other animal feed.

One reason the Agriculture Department watches the foreign oil and oilseed situation so closely is that for many years American farmers have enjoyed near-domination of the international market with their soybeans, termed a "miracle crop" by many who have seen it become a top cash earner for U.S. producers.

But the soaring demand and high prices of recent years have triggered foreign competition from many quarters, including Peruvian fishmeal, Indonesian palm oil, Canadian rapeseed and Brazilian soybeans.

Also, 1975 U.S. soybean production was a whopping 1.52 billion bushels, up 23 per cent from 1974's short harvest and only slightly below the record 1973 crop of 1.55 billion bushels.

The net effect has been that U.S. farm prices of soybeans have dropped sharply, with a possibility — according to some Agriculture Department officials — that producers may average $4.75 a bushel or less from their 1975 crop, down from a record of $6.50 a bushel last season.

By Nov. 15, for example, the farm price of soybeans nationally averaged $4.45 a bushel, down from $4.92 on Oct. 15 and $5.32 on Sept. 15. At mid-November of last year they were $7.44 a bushel.

In his analysis, Holz said that the "largest single competitive element" facing American producers in the world market is a big surge in palm oil production and exports in tropical countries such as Malaysia and Indonesia, which are the leading producers.

Prison Inmate Found Hanged

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 43-year-old Kentucky State Penitentiary inmate has been found dead, hanging by his leather belt from a cell door.

The prisoner, Clarence Reynolds of Owsley County, was found dead Sunday. He had only been at the penitentiary four days.

Lyon County Coroner Eugene Denney ordered an autopsy, though he said "there is no reason to believe the death was anything but suicide."

The death, if it is ruled suicide, would bring to 12 the number of suicides at the maximum security institution in less than four years.

Reynolds, sentenced to 10 years for robbery, was brought to the state penitentiary from the Booneville jail and was in segregation for a period of orientation and adjustment. Officials said there were no witnesses to his death.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Dec. 22, the 356th day of 1975. There are nine days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1894, a French army officer, Alfred Dreyfus, was found guilty of treason in a court-martial which inflamed world opinion. Dreyfus, later vindicated, was a victim of Anti-Semitism.

On this date —

In the year 69, the Roman Emperor Vitellius was assassinated.

In 1775, the Continental naval fleet of seven vessels was organized to fight in the American Revolution.

In 1941, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill arrived in Washington for a wartime conference with President Franklin Roosevelt.

In 1942, in World War II, U.S. heavy bombers raided the Japanese-occupied city of Rangoon, Burma.

In 1944, the Germans demanded the surrender of the American general, Anthony McAuliffe, at Bastogne, Belgium and he replied: "Nuts."

Ten years ago: Twenty-two people were killed in a commuter train accident in Portugal.

Five years ago: The North Vietnamese government released the closest thing so far to an official accounting of all American prisoners of war: a total of 339 held captive in that country.

One year ago: Seventy-seven people were killed in the crash of a domestic airliner in Venezuela.

Today's birthdays: Mrs. Lyndon Johnson is 63 years old. Orchestra conductor Andre Kostelanetz is 74.

Thought for today: Law enforcement without civil liberties is a hollow mockery — the late J. Edgar Hoover.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago, King George III approved a law prohibiting trade or commercial intercourse of any kind with the American colonies.

Bowen Changes Records Policy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 20-year practice of keeping state police arrest files confidential came to an end Friday — even if the state police aren't aware of the change, Gov. Otis R. Bowen said.

"I haven't talked to Mr. Debard (Supt. Robert Debard) personally, but I will if I have to," Bowen told a news conference.

Bowen's announcement ended a week of indecision over the files.

"I'm studying to become an ophthalmologist... ophthalmologist... ophthalmologist... I'm studying to become an eye doctor."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Everyone around me seems to be having coronaries. Three of my husband's friends have suffered attacks in the past month.

My husband is 62. He gets scared whenever he hears about one of his friends who has an attack. He even stops smoking... for a few days! What can I do to help him?

Mrs. D. A., Tex.

Dear Mrs. A.:

An interesting statement was made by Dr. John A. Udall, of the University of California, in a recent issue of the medical journal Consultant.

He says, "Everyone in modern society is a coronary risk. But the situation is improving, thanks in large part to physician awareness of the eight conditions most likely to contribute to premature atherosclerosis (arteriosclerosis)."

The narrowing of the blood vessels due to atherosclerosis diminishes the blood supply to the heart muscle through the coronary arteries. This is responsible for a coronary heart attack.

Your story is a textbook profile of the one heard by doctors everywhere. For a few days after a friend has a heart attack, fear temporarily makes some people alter their imperfect attitudes toward emotional stress, diet and the other factors that are known to contribute to coronary disease.

It is accepted that these are the eight major causes of coronary heart attack:

- 1) Increased cholesterol in the blood.
- 2) High blood pressure.
- 3) Heavy cigarette smoking.
- 4) Excess body weight and obesity.
- 5) Physical inactivity and lack of exercise.
- 6) Chronic emotional tension.
- 7) Diabetes mellitus.
- 8) A positive family history of heart disease.

The greatest contribution to your husband is to get him into the hands of his doctor. He is in the best position to outline a diet low in calories, low in saturated fats, low in cholesterol and low in salt.

In addition, a planned program of exercise and abstinence from tobacco is essential. Such a program ideally should begin at a very early age. Pressure by you and nagging insistence can only serve to enforce your husband's resistance.

The help of a physician who understands both the physical and the emotional components of his patients can set in motion forces that can prevent unnecessary heart attacks.

MRS. MARTIN EDWARD BINKLEY

Lithopolis Lutheran Church Setting For Marriage Vows

Arrangements of blue and white mums graced the altar of St. John's Lutheran Church in Lithopolis on Dec. 6 for the candlelight service uniting Miss Judy Ann Coey and Mr. Martin Edward Binkley in marriage.

The Rev. Thomas Rehl performed the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Coey of Lithopolis, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Binkley of Carroll.

Musical selections preceding the ceremony included "Annie's Song," "Color My World" and "If" by Mr. Jeff Ridgeway, organist and Mr. John Wagner, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected for her wedding a full length gown of empire mist with a sheer yoke and sleeves, and empire waistline. Lace accented the stand up collar, full sleeves and outlined the A-line skirt and flounce flowing softly to chapel length. A Juliet cap accented with seed pearls held the bride's veil of illusion flowing softly over the train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and sweetheart roses with baby's breath and white satin streamers.

Miss Yvonne Findling attended the bride as maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of blue velvet featuring an empire waistline with an ice blue sash. She wore a silver and rhinestone tiara with a complementing choker, and carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

Miss Barb Azbell, Miss Bonnie Bale,

Miss Julie Blosser, Miss Melissa Thompson, Miss Janet Zwayner and Miss Teresa Coey, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant with matching accessories and flowers. Miss Kathy Campbell attended the guest book.

Master Wayne Horsley, cousin of the bride, served as a ring bearer and Miss Julie Browning was flower girl.

Mr. Gary Binkley performed the duties of best man for his brother. Guests were ushered to their seats by Mr. Steve Binkley, brother of the bridegroom; Mr. Dan Miller, Mr. Jim Jewell, Mr. Ralph Binkley and Mr. Dennis Coey.

Following a wedding trip to Florida the couple now resides in Lithopolis. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Bloom-Carroll High School. Mr. Binkley is employed by Central Ohio Welding.

Personals

Visitors at the Chaney Vance home, Route 2, Orient for Christmas and New Year holidays will be Ms. Linda Vance, Washington, D.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Al Cooper, Las Cruces, N.M., and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vance and children of West Lafayette, Ind.

Child Study Club Hears Speakers On EMT Service

Mrs. Roger Dresbach introduced Gale Green and Roger Bowers, members of the Emergency Medical Team, as the guest speakers Monday evening for the December meeting of Child Study Club in the home of Mrs. Paul Smallwood, Jefferson Addition. They gave an informative presentation of the education for service and equipment used by the team.

Mrs. Richard Bircher presided over the business session. Roll call was answered with each member telling of a family Christmas tradition. Mrs. Kenneth Graf, social committee chairman, told of Husband's Night Out when they will see the Columbus Owls hockey game on Feb. 7. The club voted to purchase the tickets.

Mrs. Ken Speakman announced the next meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Jan. 19, in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society. Guest night will be observed with former members as special guests.

Following refreshments served by Mrs. Larry Plum and Mrs. Smallwood, members played a gift exchange game.

Derby Garden Club Visits Holiday Decorated Homes

Members of Derby Garden Club toured the homes of several members recently. The tour, under the direction of Mrs. Rose Kahler, chairman, began at the home of Mrs. Jane Vance which was decorated throughout for the Christmas season.

Other homes visited to view the holiday decorations were those of Mrs. Susie Furness, Mrs. Jon Delany, Mrs. Martha Buller, Mrs. Lois Ruoff and Mrs. Jenyne Jones.

Following the visits members met at the home of Mrs. Lois Ruoff for a short program, gift exchange and refreshments. Mrs. Shirley McPherson gave a short talk on varieties of holly, its cultivation, pruning and care. Members reported on the Decorate a Door for Golden Ager project and civic decorations for Derby Post Office and Derby United Methodist Church.

The next club meeting will be held Jan. 26 at the Derby United Methodist Church. The program will include a talk by Hop Cassidy, landscape engineer of Slemmons Nursery, using as his topic "Trimming Shrubs." Mrs. Carolyn Ohnewehr will also discuss and display new varieties of seeds as shown in 1976 seed catalogs.

SUNDAY SUPPER

Cold black bean soup, Cuban bread, salad bowl, coconut cake, beverage.

Cold Black Bean Soup

Adapted from a 1940s cookbook.
1 cup black (turtle) beans
3 cups water
Clear fat-free meat stock
Rib celery
Medium Carrot
Medium onion
1½ cups fluid milk
6-ounce can evaporated milk, undiluted

¼ teaspoon ground mace
2 tablespoons dry sherry
Salt and pepper to taste
Hard-cooked egg, sieved
Lemon or lime wedges

Pick over and rinse beans. Turn into a bowl and cover with the water; soak overnight. Pour beans and their soaking liquid into a large saucepan; add 2 cups meat stock. Quarter the celery, carrot and onion and add. Bring to a boil. Cover and simmer until beans are tender — about 2 hours; replenish liquid if necessary with meat stock.

Whirl in an electric blender to puree the vegetables. Stir in both kinds of milk, mace, sherry, and salt and pepper. Chill until icy-cold before serving. Garnish with the egg. Accompany with the lemon. Makes 5 servings.

Sunday School Class Party Held In Clark Home

Mrs. McClellan Clark, 410 Faye Ave., was hostess for the Senior Adult Sunday School Class of People's Faith Chapel on Thursday evening for a carry-in supper and Christmas party. The home was decorated for the Christmas season.

Members exchanged gifts and a gift from the class was presented to the Rev. and Mrs. John DeMint. Games were played with prizes awarded to Henry Ayers Sr. and Marie Arledge. The balance of the evening was spent visiting and singing carols. Assisting hostesses were Rachel Rohrer, Ida Buskirk and Ellen England.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Rugg and Mrs. Alice Rohrer of Columbus, Rev. and Mrs. DeMint and Mrs. Henry Ayers Sr., Circleville.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ratcliff, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Jacobs, Henry Ayers Sr., the Rev. Earl Seitz, Mrs. Della Brigner, Mrs. Mary England, Mrs. Bertha Davis, Mrs. Vodus Smith, Mrs. Bertha Carpenter and Mrs. Marie Arledge, all of Circleville.

Classes Planned On Preparation For Childbirth

Classes in preparation for childbirth will begin Thursday evening Jan. 8, at Berger Hospital 7:30-9:30 p.m.

The six week course is offered to area expectant couples and will include an introduction to childbirth, covers the anatomy and physiology, stages of labor, relaxation techniques, and breathing exercises to aid the woman in coping with labor, how her husband can help her, plus a brief discussion of the baby and its care.

The film, "The Story Of Eric," will be shown. Couples are given a tour of the obstetrical division of Berger Hospital.

Pre-registration is encouraged in the early months of pregnancy and may be made by contacting Patricia Meyer 474-4410. The classes are taken the last three months of pregnancy.

Nowadays even broiler-fryer chickens have a fair amount of visible fat. It may be cut away and stored, suitably wrapped, in the freezer. When a fair amount of the fat has accumulated, it may be rendered and used in various dishes.

Union Guild Holds Annual Yule Party

Union Guild held its annual Christmas party recently in the home of Mrs. Orin Bircher, 1460 N. Court St. A covered dish dinner at noon featured turkey.

Mrs. Helen Newlon began the afternoon program with leading members in singing Christmas carols. She read the Christmas scripture for devotions, a poem and a prayer.

Twelve members answered roll call. Guests were Mrs. Fannie Justus and Mrs. Martha Riggins of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

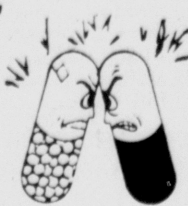

During the business meeting members voted to prepare fruit plates for six shut-ins and send cards and other remembrances to others who are ill. Mrs. Bircher and Miss Mary Shortridge are in charge of this project.

Following the guild benediction several readings were given by Mrs. Bircher. The singing of Christmas carols closed the meeting. Gifts were distributed and mystery sisters revealed.

The January meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Helen Newlon, Route 3, with Grace Streitenberger as assisting hostess.

State Parks Open All Year

Two brochures about winter activities in Ohio's state parks are now available from the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

"Our state parks are open year-round," said Natural Resources Director Robert W. Teater. "Winter offers unique outdoor recreation opportunities and scenery for state park visitors."

One of the brochures, entitled "Winter Activities," features a chart outlining the types of winter activities possible at each of the 63 state parks, depending upon weather conditions.

The winter activities listed are sledding, ice skating, cross-country skiing, ice boating, snowmobiling, hiking, ice fishing and hunting.

The second pamphlet, entitled "Ohio Snowmobiling," gives specific information about snowmobiling at eight state parks and a state forest.

The snowmobiling areas are at Punderson, West Branch, Portage Lakes, Buckeye Lake, East Harbor, Indian Lake, Lake Loramie and Grand Lake-St. Marys state parks; and at Maumee State Forest.

Copies of "Winter Activities" and "Ohio Snowmobiling" are available without charge from the Publications Center, Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Fountain Square, Columbus, Ohio 43224.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Parents Disgusted

DEAR ABBY: Our tall, handsome, athletic son served four years in the Navy, returned to civilian life and college, and 'married' an undersized, effeminate male hairdresser. We have no idea how to handle this situation or our ambivalent feelings.

This "odd couple" came to visit us, and they want us to visit them. They are inseparable and act out a peculiar husband-wife relationship that is both bewildering and disturbing to us.

So far we have been polite, but what the dickens do you say to friends and relatives? We can't condone it.

We love this boy, but as his parents we feel torn and hypocritical to say the least.

for that certain man. Three years ago, I met him. When he asked me out I was on cloud nine! We dated nightly for six months. He told me he loved me. It was heaven.

Suddenly everything came to a screeching halt! I didn't hear from him for two weeks. I knew where he lived and had his phone number, but I'm not one to run after a man. He finally called, saying he'd be over that night. When he arrived he acted as though he'd seen me the night before. I didn't question him, but he tried to make me believe his job kept him too busy to contact me. I knew he was lying.

Shortly after that, some friends took me to dinner, and there he was with another woman! He stopped by our table and made small talk. I was blind with hurt and jealousy.

Now, for two and a half years this man calls me and drops in to see me, and he thinks I should jump into bed with him because he wants me. I keep telling him to stay away from me, but he pays no attention. I've moved twice, but he finds me, and it starts over. He says he MUST see me.

I'm in my 50s and so is he. I still love him, but I don't want him on his terms. What is the solution?

TORN

DEAR TORN: You owe friends and relatives no explanation, so don't feel obligated to offer any. Since your son's lifestyle bewilders and disturbs you, either learn to accept it or quit seeing him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 35-year-old married woman (no kids and says she doesn't want any) who wasn't satisfied with her 34B bust, had silicone implants and now is a 38 C?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: It's all right with me. Maybe she wants the "booby" prize.

DEAR ABBY: I've been divorced for 12 years. Men and women tell me I am very attractive. I've had several love affairs, but I was looking

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Frank, attending a fraternal convention, had an urgent visit from lodge brother Theodore.

"I'm in a big poker game upstairs," said Theodore, "and I'm running short of cash. Can you let me have $1,000?"

Frank handed over the money, which Theodore proceeded to lose in a hurry. However, he was in no hurry to pay Frank back.

Finally Frank decided to sue. But to his dismay, the court turned him down. The court said that however good Frank's moral claim might be, he had no claim that could be enforced in a court of law.

Most states take a similar attitude toward money lent for the purpose of gambling. The idea is to discourage lenders from making such loans in the first place — or, as one judge put it, "to guard (gamblers) against the folly of using their credit under the fever and excitement of gaming."

Would it make a difference if the loan was made to pay off an already existing debt? A man advanced $500 to his brother-in-law so he could settle gambling losses he had suffered some weeks earlier.

This time a court ruled that the debt was indeed collectible, since the lender could not fairly be accused of encouraging gambling. At the time the loan was made, the court noted, "the mischief had been completed."

Another case involved two sandlot baseball teams who agreed, in the course of a pre-game luncheon, that the losers would pay for the meal.

When the losers failed to pay, the owner of the restaurant haled them into court and won a judgment. The court said that even though he was aware of the bet at the time he "loaned" the food, his role in the transaction was too minor to consider him tainted.

CHRISTMAS ORANGES

Oranges are part of the Christmas tradition in the United States. In the past, oranges were a treasured gift that many families in the colder regions of this country received only at Christmas.

Holiday fruit baskets containing oranges are still popular gifts although the fruit is available all year.

Navel oranges are currently in season. These oranges can be identified by the navel formation opposite the stem end. While nature may put an occasional seed in a navel orange, most are seedless.

Oranges are an excellent source of vitamin C, a nutrient the body needs every day for growth and maintenance. They also contain important amounts of potassium and folic acid.

Oranges are not only delicious by themselves or in juice, but are a tasty baking ingredient. The addition of orange juice to this yeast bread recipe gives it an unusual flavor. If fresh oranges are used for juice it takes three to four medium-size oranges for one cup of juice.

1 Pkg. Active Dry Yeast
¼ Cup Warm Water
2 Cups Milk
2 Cups Uncooked Oats, Regular
Or Quick-Cooking
¼ Cup Butter Or Margarine

2 Cups Orange Juice
½ Cup Molasses
1 Tblsp. Salt
¾ Cup Sugar
2 Cups Raisins
10 Cups Sifted All Purpose Flour

In a small cup, sprinkle yeast over warm water and stir until dissolved. Set aside. Scald milk and pour over oats and butter in a large mixing bowl. Let stand 30 minutes. Add orange juice, molasses, salt, sugar, raisins and dissolved yeast mixture to oats. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Place in a greased clean bowl, cover and let rise until double in bulk, about one and one-half hours. Turn out onto floured surface and knead 10 minutes. Shape into three loaves and place in three greased 9x5x3 inch loaf pans. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, one and one half to two hours. Bake in the oven at 350° F. for one hour or until loaves sound hollow when tapped on top. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

1180 NORTH COURT ON OLD ROUTE 23 • CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

Rhodes Opens Blitz On Press

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — What happens to make a governor who doesn't particularly relish news conferences launch into a series of almost daily briefings during a traditional pre-Christmas lull?

In the case of Gov. James A. Rhodes, one man's answer is good as the next. He'd be the last to say if it were any kind of an effort to change his image. Over the years, the one image he created and still maintains is "keep 'em guessing," and it probably applies in this case. "I don't have any image," he snapped, when once asked if he worried about such things.

The 66-year-old governor often goes for weeks without having a full-blown news conference. He answers queries about them with "my door is always open." But lately, he has held them so fast that reporters have had trouble keeping up with the subject matter.

He followed one 90-minute luncheon session, at which aides carried in hamburgers and milk shakes, with meetings on succeeding days to talk about fundamentalist Christian schools, a state office building in Cleveland, a new ambulance factory wing in Piqua, citizen band radios on state highways, a property tax freeze, a youth task force, and the financing of education in Ohio.

"Are you getting tired of these?" the always energetic governor asked of reporters still rubbing sleep from their eyes at a typical early morning session. "Let the sunshine in," he smiled, with outstretched arms, in an obvious reference to Ohio's new open meetings law.

Some speculation about the three-term governor's latest moves has it that Rhodes, having taken one of the worst political drubbings in his life with his four Nov. 4 ballot issues, is reacting to a political instinct that tells him to throw his detractors off guard by maintaining a strong offensive.

One old news wag, now retired but an observer of Rhodes for many years, said he thinks the governor is using the slowness of the holiday season to keep his administration in the headlines. "Jim knows how and when to move to get the best coverage," he said.

The former newsman also noted that the governor is "not one to sit around and mope about his losses. He'll just set his sights on a new project, and not even think about the way the voters clobbered his bond issues."

Voters turned down his $4.5 billion in bond issues and other amendments to make Ohio "depression proof" by margins of up to 5-1. In fact, they failed to be approved in a single county. He said, philosophically, that "the voters have spoken."

Rhodes, though popular himself—enough so to unseat two Democratic governors in a span of 12 years—has lost issues battles before. In 1967, voters assigned to a scrap heap a broad Rhodes' plan to establish an Ohio Bond Commission with unprecedented powers to issue bonds without voter approval.

The next year, he bounced back—much like he seems to be doing now—and wound up getting voters to okay a massive $750 million state bond issue. Rhodes this time has proposed no new bond issues, but is "waiting patiently" for the Democratic legislature to come up with alternatives to his defeated proposals, he said.

1040 Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. This column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) I am 65 years old and have just sold my home. I've heard that because of my age, I may not have to pay tax on some of the profit I made from the sale. Is this true?

(A.) Yes. If you were 65 or older before the date of the sale or exchange of your house, you may be able to exclude from your income all or part of the gain from the sale. However, you are allowed to do this only once in your life, and you must have owned and used the property as your principal residence for at least five of the eight years immediately before the date of the sale.

If you meet these requirements, and if the adjusted sales price of your home is $20,000 or less, you may elect to exclude the entire gain from your income. This election must be made by both taxpayers if the property is jointly owned. If the adjusted sales price is more than $20,000, you may still be able to exclude part of the profit. For more information, see IRS Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home. It's available free from your IRS Office.

(Q.) I have a full-time job in one city, but I live with my family in a city 100 miles away, and I must travel back and forth each week. Are any of the travel and living expenses deductible?

(A.) No. In a case like yours, your home, for tax purposes, is considered to be your principal place of business, employment or post of duty, regardless of where you maintain your family residence. Your food and lodging while at your job and your travel expenses are considered personal expenses, and are not deductible. For more information, see IRS Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, and Gift Expenses, available free at your IRS Office.

(Q.) I made a down payment on a home I wanted to have built, but the construction company has just declared bankruptcy. I am told I have no chance of recovering my money. Is there some kind of loss which I can declare on my tax return?

(A.) When a construction company becomes insolvent and fails to perform under the terms of a contract, the unrecoverable deposit made for the construction of a residence is considered a non-business bad debt.

Humphrey Tops Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Harris polls show Democratic Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota considerably ahead of the Republican party's two top candidates, President Ford and former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, in voter popularity.

A poll released Friday showed Humphrey leading Reagan, the only announced challenger to Ford, by a 50 to 43 per cent margin. In a similar survey of 1,214 likely voters three weeks ago, he made an even better showing as the 52 per cent to 41 per cent choice over Ford. In both samples, 7 per cent said they did not know how they would vote.

Redistribute College Cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Board of Regents has redistributed the wealth among a number of Ohio colleges and universities to ease financial problems brought on by a 9 per cent statewide enrollment increase.

Because of the unexpected growth last fall Chancellor James A. Norton said "all but 12 of the state's 59 public colleges will receive less than the state subsidies their enrollments call for."

To aid some of the underfunded institutions, the regents voted Friday to reduce monthly subsidies to universities where enrollments did not reach the level projected when funds were appropriated by the General Assembly last summer.

The big loser was Ohio State, which will receive $1.5 million less than its original 1975-76 subsidy appropriation. OSU's enrollment did not drop off, but a change in the "student mix"—graduate, undergraduate, night student, etc.—caused a change in the subsidy formula calculation.

The Cleveland State University 12-month subsidy was pared by $236,000 and Central State was cut $90,700.

Gaining from the adjustments were: Akron, $236,130; Bowling Green, $53,700; Cincinnati, $320,400; Kent, $320,800, Ohio University, $87,590, Miami, $97,430; Toledo, $207,925; Wright State, $154,630; and Youngstown, $148,215.

BOARD OF PUBLIC UTILITIES CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO CONTRACT NO. 2 INTERCEPTOR SEWER A. ADVERTISEMENT AND NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Public Utilities until 12:00 o'clock noon, January 28, 1976, at the Manager's Office, 114 West Franklin Street, Circleville, Ohio.

The work for which proposals are invited is included under Contract No. 2, and consists of furnishing all labor, materials and equipment necessary to construct 1540 feet of 27 and 2100 feet of 48 inch gravity sewer, 2800 feet of 8 inch water line, 120 feet of 8 inch water line in casing pipe, 335 feet of 8" water line and 48" sewer river crossing, manholes, valves and all appurtenances.

Copies of the Contract Documents are on file and may be obtained at the Manager's Office in Circleville at any time between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. These documents may be obtained by depositing thirty dollars ($30.00). Fifteen dollars ($15.00) will be refunded upon return of same in good condition within five (5) days of bid opening date.

As bid security, each proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check or bid bond with an approved surety company, in the amount of ten per cent (10 per cent) of the total amount of the base bid. The bidder to whom a contract is awarded will be required to furnish performance and payment bonds from an acceptable surety company in the total amount of the contract.

Any Contract or Contracts awarded under this invitation for bids are expected to be funded in part by a grant from the United States Environmental Protection Agency. Neither the United States nor any of its departments, agencies, or employees is or will be a party to this invitation for bids or any resulting Contract.

Bidders will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246, as amended. The requirements for bidders and Contractors under this order are explained in the specifications.

Deputy Brown Investigates 2 Accidents

Drivers of two cars suffered minor injuries in two accidents investigated by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy J. Phillip Brown.

The most spectacular occurred 7 a.m. Sunday when Eugene Cierpial, 23, Detroit, Mich., lost control of his car on Route 23 and skidded more than 450 feet out of control.

The accident occurred when Cierpial lost control of the car at the Route 22 overpass, going off the inside lane onto the median strip for 142 feet.

The car came off the median strip, slid broadside across the two lanes for 153 feet, and slammed into the bridge.

The car bounced off the structure, careened back into the median strip, and came to rest 162 feet from the point of impact.

Cierpial was referred to a doctor for treatment of a laceration to his right hand.

Deputy Brown also investigated an accident in Hocking County after the driver of the car, Glenna L. Betts, 37, Route 1, South Bloomingville, was treated at Berger Hospital for a broken nose.

Ms. Betts told Deputy Brown that she was northbound on Route 56 1:30 a.m. Sunday when she lost control of her car on the ice-covered Salt Creek bridge.

Her car apparently slid through the bridge and crashed into a ditch on the far side.

Historical Society Receives Grant

Pickaway County Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, L. Robert Liston and Donald Strous today received a letter of appreciation from Polly Miller on behalf of the historical society.

Commissioners assisted the local historical society in applying for a state grant from the Ohio American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission. The $2,000 received is to be used to finance a Pickaway County Historical Document center.

In business today, commissioners employed Ralph Arney to conduct a survey on the needs of space for the various departments of county government.

They received a communication from the Ohio Mental Health and Retardation Board informing them that Doris Young has been appointed to the Ross-Payette-Highland-Pickaway-Pike Mental Retardation board.

Seniors Hold Christmas Carry-In

The bowlers of Pickaway Senior Center held a Christmas Carry-in dinner at Circle D Lanes Friday just prior to their regular bowling times.

Gladden Troutman offered a table prayer before the buffet-style meal was served.

Larry and Penny Dietrich were honored guests and were presented with a floral arrangement from the group in appreciation of their help to the group during the past three years. Their daughter Tracy was also present, and John and Betty Dietrich, parents of Larry and former owners of the bowling lanes, but who are now members of the Center and bowl with the group.

Others present were: Marion and Helen Good, Gordon and Genevieve DeNike, Ben Johnson, Roger and Florence Jury, Doc and Louise Heine, Lucy Hawks, Marvin Edgington, John Miranda, Bea Owens, Ruth Woodward, Jesse Sparks, Ernie Weller, Yette Dudleson, Paul Gentzel, Grace Stone, Fred Howell, Leona Crites, Vivian Lewis, Gladden Troutman, Merton and Twyla Lorentz, and Russell Lape.

Bessie and Nolan Dunkle and Mary Bales were spectators, but Bessie hopes to be back bowling early in 1976, having had surgery just before Thanksgiving. Another bowler, John Neff was in the hospital and could not attend. Several others are out of town for the holidays.

The group bowls every Friday at 1:30 p.m. and anyone age 55 or over is welcome to come and bowl. It is not necessary to be a member of the Center to join the bowling group. For more information, call 474-4916.

There are mixed teams, and all have handicaps. Weekly scores and handicaps are recorded by the acting secretary, Gordon DeNike. Trophies will be awarded in May.

Thieves Break Into Three Businesses Near Deercreek

Three businesses near Deercreek State Park, including two stores which sell camping and fishing supplies, were broken into by thieves Saturday or Sunday, according to reports at the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Thieves made off with $585.85 worth of ammunition and cigarettes after breaking into Frosties Bait Store, Route 1, New Holland.

Owner Forrest Morris said the store, located on the Crownover Mill Rd., a half-mile east of Route 207, was broken into between 5 and 11 p.m. Saturday.

Thieves pryed the security screen and window molding from a window on the end of a storage building. They then pryed open the locked door to the bait store.

Stolen items included shotgun and rifle shells and cigarettes and cigars. Deputies are currently awaiting the outcome of an inventory to determine what was taken in the Saturday or Sunday night break-in at the Dam Shack, Route 1, Mount Sterling.

The store, located on the McCafferty Crownover Mill Rd. one mile north of the Crownover Mill Rd., is owned by Robert Dick of Circleville.

The thieves gained initial entry through an unlocked screen door. After attempting several times to kick in the main door, they apparently broke one of the panels and reached inside to operate the locking mechanism.

Reynolds Names Plant Manager

ASHVILLE, — William F. Kazelskis, president of El Campo Aluminum Company at El Campo, Texas, has been named plant manager at Reynolds Metals Company's building products plant here, W. B. Moore, Jr., vice president and general manager of the company's Architectural and Building Products Division, said today. He succeeds Tom Agee who will take over the duties of plant engineer.

A native of Grand Rapids, Mich., Kazelskis has been in the aluminum industry for 27 years. He joined Reynolds in 1950 as plant manager of the company's Grand Rapids extrusion plant.

In 1956 Kazelskis was named executive vice president of Dixie Aluminum Company in Georgia. In 1961 he returned to Reynolds as plant superintendent at the company's extrusion plant in Torrance, Calif. He became manager of that facility in 1963 and eight years later was named president of El Campo Aluminum.

Kazelskis is a member of the Elks Lodge and Rotary International at El Campo, and he serves as a director of Commercial State Bank and the El Campo Chamber of Commerce.

He is married and the father of four children.

Scientists Seeking 'Old Air' Samples

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP) — Washington State University scientists are trying to find some old air. They've been sniffing through museums, junkyards and even mothballed naval vessels looking for "antique air" to test theories on how the earth's protective ozone layer has been affected by fluorocarbons, such as gases used as propellants in aerosol cans.

Dr. R.A. Rasmussen, head of air resources research at Washington state, said antique air is likely to be found in corked bottles, antique hour glasses, insulation lines of old water storage tanks, compressed air cylinders and vintage sealed tin cans.

The purpose of the investigation is to collect samples of air sealed in containers before 1930 when fluorocarbons began to be used, Rasmussen said.

These will be compared with air bottled-up in the 1940s and 50s to determine distribution and accumulation of fluorocarbons in the atmosphere, he said.

Thorough chemical analysis of the old air will determine if there are any natural sources of fluorocarbons such as volcanoes, Rasmussen said.

"We must be certain about the presence or absence of the chemical in old air before scientists can accurately describe what is happening in the atmosphere," he explained.

Some scientists have said the aerosol fluorocarbon gases are drifting to the stratosphere's highest levels, where ultraviolet rays turn them into chlorine.

The chlorine destroys the ozone layer, the scientists say. That atmospheric layer is the only thing that protects living things on the earth's surface from deadly solar rays.

Washington State chemist Joseph Krasnec, who is helping identify antique air sources, is conducting tests on the first air samples taken from a hollow structural support of the USS Iowa, a battleship commissioned in 1943 and now mothballed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Krasnec hopes to test other air samples when time capsules are opened during Bicentennial observances.

Rasmussen said air chemistry measurement skills developed by chemical engineers at the university are extremely accurate in determining whether antique air has been contaminated by modern air.

"Obtaining a wide variety of samples will probably be the most difficult part of the project," Rasmussen said. "We may have to consider sampling at the bottom of some of the Northwest's mines which have been closed for a half century."

Saloon Salon In Des Moines Sells Shampoos And Chablis

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Milady may now order a shampoo and chablis at Salon Francois, thank you. Or a manicure with Madeira.

"I had so many asking for it, I went to the trouble and expense of getting a liquor license," said Tony Francois, Iowa's lone beautician-barkeeper.

Some of his patrons have been calling his shop a saloon rather than a salon for years, he joked. "Now we can live up to it."

When he decided to serve liquor in his plush new beauty and barber shop, Francois figured the hard stuff wouldn't go.

"I just had a feeling women could accept champagne and wine more readily," he said.

Roland Gallagher, director of Iowa's Beer and Liquor Control Department, said nearly any Iowa business can have a liquor permit if the applicant has good moral character and meets other requirements.

Some universities and hospitals in Iowa have liquor licenses to serve drinks in student or faculty lounges. Some Iowa hospitals even have bedside cocktail service for patients; others offer candlelight dinners with wine for new mothers and their husbands.

Beauty salons in some states are allowed to serve free drinks to customers, but Francois said that is illegal in Iowa.

The new beauty bar already is making waves in the wavemaking business. One man in Virginia called Francois, saying the cocktails may be just the thing he needs to replace a female barber who quit after two months of cutting men's hair.

Francois said the champagne and wine he offers sells for $1.50 to $2.25 a split. And do the customers like drinking and drying?

"They were all happy when they left here," Francois says.

2 People Hurt In Auto Crash

Two people were injured in a traffic accident 1:43 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of S. Pickaway and E. Franklin Sts.

Dorothy M. Keaton, 44, Fairborn, told Circleville Police that she was stopped for the traffic light at the intersection when a car driven by Karen Wolford, 17, 201 1/2 Logan St., struck her vehicle in the rear.

Mc. Wolford told police that she began to stop her vehicle, but that the brakes failed to operate.

She was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for a nose injury. A passenger in Mrs. Keaton's car, Fannie Ash, 66, Elsea Mobile Village, complained of neck and arm injuries.

In the presidential election of 1824, since no candidate received a majority of the electoral votes, the decision went to the House of Representatives, which elected John Quincy Adams.

Teays Valley Cagers Edge Westfall In Thrilling Encounter, 83-82

Teays Valley, which seems to have a knack for pulling games out of the fire in the last ten seconds, did so again Saturday night over the Westfall Mustangs, 83-82, in a hi-foul-utin' county contest on the Viking floor.

Although Westfall led through most of the game, it was one of those down to the wire finishes as Teays Valley kept close, rarely trailing by more than two or three points. The name of the game was offense from the opening tip as both teams literally ran through each other's various defensive strategies stopping only for one of 55 fouls committed during the game. There were 67 attempted free throws during the game.

Taking scoring honors with 25 points was Westfall's Kevin Reid. Terry Hanson had 17 for the Mustangs, Bill Hamman hooped 14, Mack Dick scored nine, John Karshner netted 7, Eric Schleich hit six, Chris Riddle and John Long each sank a field goal.

For the Vikings, Tim Tosca paced the team with 19 markers, David Schiff hit 14, Jeff Cauger and Mike Johnson each ripped 12, Terry Trego added eight, Rusty Rathburn contributed six, Charles Morrison hooped 10 and Jeff Voss scored two.

Teays Valley hit on 32 of 61 field goal attempts for 52 per cent and 19 of 29 from the free throw line for 66 per cent.

Westfall put 29 of 61 shots in the hoop for a 47 per cent average and added 24 of 38 from the charity stripe for 63 per cent.

Westfall won the battle of the boards pulling down 34 rebounds to Teays Valley's 26. Reid led the Mustangs with 10 while Cauger paced the Vikings with nine.

In the turnover department, Teays Valley misplaced the ball 16 times while Westfall gave the ball away 27 times.

Seven players fouled out in the game.

Westfall got on the board first as Mack Dick sank a goal from underneath at 7:51 in the first frame. Tim Tosca sank two free throws at 7:32 to tie. Dick hit another at 7:21, and Jeff Cauger added a three point play for the Vikings at 7:11 to go ahead 5-4. The lead see-sawed back and forth until the Mustangs hit for six straight to lead 18-11 at 3:26. The teams traded shots and the first quarter ended with the Mustangs on top 29-23.

It was more of the same in the second frame. Teays Valley did score six in a row to come within three, but Westfall came back with five to widen the gap 45-38 at 2:44.

The teams traded buckets and Westfall maintained a six-point edge the rest of the way, taking a 54-48 edge at half-time.

In the third period the Vikings narrowed the gap to within one as Mike Johnson ripped the cords at 5:23 for a 56-55 score. But the Mustangs put six straight points on the scoreboard and led 64-57 at 3:36. After trading buckets, Teays Valley closed out the quarter with another six markers and trailed by one, 66-65 going into the final canto.

Westfall again went ahead by six in the fourth frame when Eric Schleich hit on a corner jump shot near the half-way mark to lead 74-68. However, two of Westfall's starters, Mack Dick and Chris Riddle, fouled out at 4:14 and Teays Valley's Tim Tosca netted six and Charles Morrison, two, to trail by one, 76-75, at the three minute mark.

Westfall then added three free throws for a 79-75 lead but Jeff Cauger added two free throws and Mike Johnson put the Viking crowd on its feet with a sweeping hook shot at 1:47 to come within one, 79-78.

Long hit a bucket for the Mustangs, but Charles Morrison sank two in a row and Tosca added a free throw at 0:08 and suddenly it became a whole new game as Teays Valley took the lead for the first time in three quarters, 83-81.

But, the game wasn't over yet. Westfall drew a foul two seconds later and the Mustangs went to the line with a one-and-one situation, and a chance to put the game in overtime. The first shot rippled the cords, but the second just missed and the game was history.

Teays Valley won the reserve game 30-28 holding off a surge of eight straight fourth quarter points by the Mustangs.

Teays Valley led 10-4 after one frame, 18-9 at the half, 27-17 after three periods and won 30-28.

Scoring for Teays Valley was Mike Fisher with 12, Dwayne Hettinger had six, Rick Queen hooped five, Ron Little hit four and Duane Keller scored three.

For Westfall, Darst netted eight, Larry List and Ted Everman each ripped seven and Jeff Mowery added six.

Teays Valley is now 4-3 and will travel to Circleville Saturday night.

Westfall is 4-2 and will host Logan Elm Saturday night in another county clash.

McKay Unemotional Over Liberty Bowl

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Coach John McKay said he's not getting emotional about tonight's Liberty Bowl game which pits his Southern California Trojans against Texas A&M, even though the game will be McKay's last as a college mentor before he becomes coach of the National Football League expansion club at Tampa.

"The last game is going to come," McKay said calmly. "When you're dead you get it or you get fired and get it or you're moving on and you get it. The emotion is long gone."

McKay acted almost as if he hadn't come to the 17th annual Liberty Bowl classic, the Trojans' first bowl appearance outside the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal has a 14-6 Rose Bowl record — 5-3 under McKay.

"My philosophy has been that a bowl should be a reward for an outstanding job," he said at an afternoon news conference. "We didn't do an outstanding job."

Plagued by late-season injuries to key personnel, the Trojans bring a 7-4 record up against the Aggies' 10-1 mark.

But McKay made it clear he isn't worrying about the awesome Aggie defense, which has limited its foes to 80 yards rushing per game.

He'll send his junior tailback sensation, Ricky Bell, a 6-foot-2, 215-pounder who leads the nation in rushing, up against the A&M defensive squad which includes three All-Americans — linebackers Ed Simonini and Garth Ten Napel and cornerback Pat Thomas.

Bell, who injured an ankle in practice two weeks ago, is still far from full-speed, McKay said. "He's in pretty good shape, but he hasn't been cutting like he should."

That means Bell's understudy, sophomore Rod Connors, will be getting a lot of game time, McKay said.

Emory Ballard, the Aggie coach, had little sympathy for McKay's Trojans and their injury list.

"I can't bring myself to be sorry for Southern California," Ballard said after running the Aggies through a 30-minute light workout Sunday. Bell will be a problem for the Aggie defense, Ballard said, but he isn't the Trojans' only threat.

"He operates behind an outstanding line," Ballard said. "You've got to defense a lot of things in addition to Ricky Bell."

The Aggies have their own injury list, he pointed out.

But senior Mike Jay, injured in the Texas game, will return to duty at quarterback tonight. The rest of the Aggie backfield will include freshman George Woodard at fullback and Bubba Bean and Jim Hartman at half-back.

175-pound — Bill Mogan (C), Jay Crummy, Garver WJ), Coey (BC).

185-pound — Jerry Strawser (C), Burr (MT), Joffe (W), Dennen (MP).

HVY — Fritz (I), Skinner (W), Tim Housch (C), Bail (A).

"I was very pleased with the way all the Circleville wrestlers went after their opponents and aggressively went after pins. Circleville wrestlers had 13 pins in the tournament," Tiger Coach Brent Bell commented.

The outstanding wrestler award went to Gary Noel of Athens. John Payne won the quickest total pins with three pins in 10:30.

Season records for Circleville wrestlers are: Mike Hamilton, 5-0; Jim Cordle, 5-0; John Payne, 5-0; Dan DeFrank, 4-1; Jeff Lackey, 4-1; Andy Smith, 4-1; Bill Mogan, 4-1; Jerry Strawser, 4-1; Tom Marshall, 4-1; Tim Housch, 4-1; and Tony Dray, 2-2-1.

Circleville's next match will be 1 p.m. January 10 at home with Hillsboro and Wilmington in a triangular meet.

Hank Stram
Next Saints
Head Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Stram, the dapper little man who developed Kansas City's "offense of the '70s" as the Chiefs' only coach through their first 15 years, will be named head coach of the National Football League's New Orleans Saints this week. The Associated Press has learned.

According to a source close to Stram and his former team, the announcement of the appointment is expected to be made Friday, Dec. 27, one year to the day after he was fired by Chiefs' owner Lamar Hunt, and Stram is to receive a multiyear contract worth at least $100,000 a year.

Nets Rout Squires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Melchionni, the New York Nets' player-assistant coach, is wearing his two hats well.

The veteran guard came up with 15 points and 11 assists to spark the New York Nets to a 118-91 rout of the Virginia Squires Sunday. He hit six shots in a row during the second quarter as the Nets busted the game open.

In the lockerroom afterwards, reverting to his coaching role, Melchionni played down his own contribution.

"We were moving around, looking for shots," he said. "I just happened to be in the right place at the right time."

Why did he only take three more shots the rest of the game?

"I wanted to give other guys a chance," he replied. "I'm beyond the stage of points."

The victory avenged a 94-90 Nets loss at Virginia Thursday night and kept them in the thick of the American Basketball Association race.

In other ABA games Sunday, the San Antonio Spurs edged the Spirits of St. Louis 108-106 and the Denver Nuggets defeated the Indiana Pacers 122-117.

Denver, 20-6, still leads the Nets, 17-8, by 2½ games. San Antonio, 17-10, is third, followed by Indiana at 17-11 in the tight ABA race.

Nets star Julius Erving scored 31 points, shooting 12 of 17 from the field, and grabbed 12 rebounds before sitting out the final period. He's been bothered by a bruised left hip.

The Nets, spurred by Melchionni and Erving, outscored Virginia 34-16 in the second period to establish a 63-40 half-time edge, and the Squires never recovered. Mike Jackson topped Virginia with 20 points and Jim Eakins had 17.

U.S. Near Elimination

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States was within four games of a possible elimination from the 1976 Davis Cup tennis tournament today as Jimmy Connors squared off with Mexican star Raul Ramirez in their climactic match.

The best-of-five North American Zone final competition boiled down to the Connors-Ramirez match Sunday after Brian Gottfried got the U.S. even at 2-2 with a dramatic 3-6, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6, 6-1 triumph over Marcelo Lara in the day's first match.

Connors and Ramirez, each of whom won their opening singles matches Friday, then began their struggle but darkness forced a halt in play with the Mexican ahead 2-6, 6-3, 6-3 and Connors leading 3-2 in the fourth set.

The Gottfried-Lara match was a marathon encounter which caught the fancy of the crowd at Rafael Osuna Stadium. The judge had to call for silence four times after spontaneous applause and loud cheers from fans distracted the players.

Long Beach
To Receive
Alaskan Oil

CLEVELAND (AP) — Crude oil from Alaska's 800-mile pipeline will be shipped from the ice-free port of Valez to Long Beach, Calif., Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) says.

The decision, reported Sunday in the San Pedro, Calif., News-Pilot and confirmed by Sohio, ended months-long jockeying by Los Angeles and Long Beach, both of whose ports are on San Pedro Bay and compete for shipping business.

The trans-Alaska pipeline that will have a capacity of two million barrels daily is scheduled to carry 1.2 million barrels daily after initial phasing in. The 48-inch line from Alaska's frigid North Slope is to be completed in mid-1977 at an estimated $6.3 billion cost. Shipments to Long Beach are expected to begin in 1978.

Sohio sought a port capable of handling tankers carrying 50,000 to 150,000 tons. Long Beach proposed spending $20 million for a tanker facility in its outer harbor, where the water is 62 feet deep.

From Long Beach, Sohio plans a pipeline to Midland, Tex., where it will tie in with existing distribution systems. That 1,000-mile line is expected to have capacity to move about 500,000 million barrels per day, meaning about 700,000 barrels of Alaska crude will be absorbed by West Coast markets daily.

Sohio announced last May it has an agreement with El Paso Co. for use of a nearly 700-mile natural gas pipeline designed to pump gas from Texas into the West Coast area. Sohio plans to reverse the flow and to build or use other existing line segments for the other about 300 miles.

Hog And Pig
Inventory
Report Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department planned to issue a report today on inventories of hogs and pigs that will provide a better idea on how much pork can be expected next year.

Farmers have trimmed breeding herds sharply the past couple of years in response to high feed costs and relatively low market prices for hogs. Recently, however, feed prices have eased and hog prices have been much higher, rising to record levels a few months ago.

The report today will show the number of hogs and pigs on farms as of Dec. 1, the beginning of the 1975-76 marketing year, and the number of females planned to have new litters of pigs this winter.

Meanwhile, other Agriculture Department reports show that hog slaughter in 1975 is down 16 to 17 per cent from last year, meaning that actual pork output for the consumer market is estimated to be the smallest since 1966.

On a per capita basis, allowing for population growth, the pork supply is even smaller, averaging an estimated 54.5 pounds per person on a carcass weight basis, down from 66.6 pounds in 1974 and a recent peak of 73 pounds in 1971. According to Agriculture Department records, the 1975 per capita supply has been the smallest since 1935, when it averaged 48.1 pounds.

Soviet Crop Buys Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — According to Agriculture Department statisticians, corn and wheat shipments from all origins to the Soviet Union are expected to total about 6.5 million metric tons in the final three months of this year, with about 80 per cent or 5.1 million tons coming from the United States.

The department's Foreign Agricultural Service said further in a report today that a total of about 26 million tons of grain will be imported by Russia in the fiscal year to end June 30 from all foreign origins if the current pace continues.

Sales of U.S. wheat and corn to the Soviets so far total about 13.2 million tons, most of it for delivery during this fiscal year. The progress report on shipments appeared to be on target with projections of Russian imports made earlier by Agriculture Department officials.

The first speaker to address an organization by radio was Dr. Weir Carlyle Ketter, president of Grove City College in Pennsylvania.

Med Students Work In Dr. Myers' Office

Two more Ohio State University medical students are completing their Community Medicine Rotation program in Dr. William Myers' office. They are Timothy Kelly and Kenneth A. Kenyhercz studying the role of a family physician in the health care delivery system.

The one-month preceptorship is a requirement of the medical student's clinical training following their academic work of medical school.

During the training period, the two students will live with Dr. Myers and will become involved in his practice. He said he would probably assign a hospital patient to each one but will keep close supervision on the care of the patients. He explained that the training will enable the students to put themselves into the shoes of a physician and to think what they would do if totally responsible for their patients.

Kelly and Kenyhercz will begin their month-long stay at the doctor's office Jan. 5.

Also during the month of January, Myers will host Dr. Michael Garon who is completing his final year of residency in family practice.

In July, Garon and Dr. Gary Gillen will join Myers' practice. Both young men are completing their residencies at the University of Iowa but are natives of Ohio.

The hosting of the students from OSU as part of their rotation program comes under Myers' faculty job as an associate professor at OSU in community medicine.

Paperworkers Open Talks On Contract

MONTREAL (AP) — The Canadian Paperworkers Union (CPU) and four Quebec newsprint producers opened negotiations during the weekend in an effort to end the 10-week-old strike by 3,500 workers.

A mediator appointed by the Quebec provincial government was assisting in the negotiations.

Companies affected by the negotiations are Domtar Ltd.'s Dolbeau plant, the Chicago Tribune's Quebec North Shore Paper Co. Ltd. in Baie Comeau, Reed Paper Co. Ltd.'s Quebec City operation and the McLaren Co. Ltd. mill at Buckingham.

In Thorold, Ont., the Ontario Paper Co. Ltd. offered its 950 striking workers a 30.5-per-cent wage increase over three years, and a company spokesman said essentially the same offer was being made in the Quebec negotiations.

The men's base pay is now $4.82 an hour.

The offer included a 14 per cent increase the first year. Last week, the federal anti-inflation review board rejected an offer by Irving Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd. of St. John, N.B., to increase wages for its striking workers by 23.8 per cent in a one-year contract. The board said it would not approve more than 14 per cent in one year.

The CPU is considering appealing the board's ruling to the federal cabinet.

The Atlantic region's CPU representative said striking paper workers in Nova Scotia rejected a request from the premiers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick to accept the board's action on the Irving offer and return to work for a 90-day cooling off period.

The representative said workers at the Nova Scotia Forest Industries mill at Point Tupper will vote Tuesday on a new offer from the company of less than 14 per cent in the first year. The union executive will recommend rejection, Tupper said.

About 30,000 pulp and papers workers have been on strike in Eastern Canada since mid-July.

Thieves Enter Parked Cars

Circleville Police said two vehicles were entered over the weekend and items taken from them.

Donald Hashman, Lot 27, Morris Trailer Court, told police that thieves took parts from his vehicle which was parked on S. Court St. Saturday.

The parts included a tire and wheel, chrome oil cap, and rear speaker. The thieves also bent the rear seat in the car.

Thieves used a wire device to gain entry to a car owned by James Barkwill, 302 E. Main St., Saturday.

The car, parked at Washington and Main Sts., had its citizen band radio removed.

The unit, a Realistic three-channel, is valued at $70.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE - Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You should have no trouble carrying out all the necessary requirements, but this is no time to take on "extras" or to scatter energies. In general, stick to routine.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Look for the "loopholes" that trick needlessly; be alert to misrepresentation; sift carefully for truths. Once sure you are on the right track, make your moves - confidently.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Good influences! Activities should be handled evenly so as not to lap over too much in any direction. Start with a suitable tempo and maintain it.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Your tact and the utmost discretion needed now. Your approach to others will be most important. In all situations, display good sportsmanship.

(July 24 to Aug. 23): Face realities and correct deficiencies in your schedule as promptly as possible. Don't wait for snags to appear. A thorough study of details is needed.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stellar aspects not entirely friendly. Much will depend upon your adaptability, willingness to alter plans. Don't follow false leads.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may face some complex situations now, some unexpected obstacles, so anticipate them - but with composure and preparedness, not anxiety. You CAN cope.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Differences of opinion need not result in rifts. Get together with those concerned and calmly iron things out.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Don't negate past fine efforts through carelessness. Attend to all affairs in a quiet, dispassionate manner. Personal relationships should prove rewarding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Look to others for suggestions - help, too. Don't try too much by yourself or reject ideas summarily, for the sake of delight in personal achievement.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): There's a tendency now to take off on tangents or useless ventures unless you keep your mind on immediate objectives. Press for efficiency.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Delay may seem the rule rather than the exception. Work to eliminate the causes of defeat and disappointment before the effects set in.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with tremendous inner forces of strength, vitality and the impulses which can bring out the best within everyone who crosses your path. You do not always recognize the forces within yourself but, once cognizant of them, you can be a powerful influence for good. Your goals are usually lofty ones and yours is the exacting and persevering nature which can lead to their attainment. Your relationships with others are usually seemingly happy outwardly but suspiciousness and a bit of jealousy, which you are usually successful at concealing, often keep you from truly enjoying your associations. Try to curb! You are versatile in your talents and, depending on BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP) - United Airlines mechanics have returned to work, and the nation's largest domestic air carrier said it is resuming flights today and will be in full operation by Christmas Eve.

The mechanics ratified a three-year contract Sunday. Their two-week strike had forced United to cancel all its flights through Jan. 5, adding to a bleak picture for holiday travelers already faced with a strike now in its third month against National Airlines.

United announced it would resume 36 per cent of its flights today, 80 per cent by Tuesday and full service by Christmas Eve.

"We are anxious to start operations Monday now that the IAM membership has approved the contract," Richard J. Ferris, president of United Airlines, said in Chicago. "All of our 747 and DC8 aircraft will be operating Tuesday, as well as all schedules from the mainland to and from Hawaii."

Glenn Putman, a United spokesman here, said persons who had reservations with United up to and including Dec. 25 must rebook. He advised those with reservations starting Dec. 26 to confirm their flights.

"The machinists union has tried very hard to bring the airline back into operation for the Christmas season," said George Robinson, president and general chairman of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers. "We have reached an equitable settlement and we will bring those passengers home for Christmas."

Robinson said the new three-year contract, running to Oct. 31, 1978, increases the base pay of mechanics from $7.64 to $10 an hour over its life. He called it "the best contract in the industry and we look forward to it being the leader in the industry."

In Washington, John Peterpaul, the union's transportation secretary, said the contract provided proportionate increases for other classifications of employees.

"Improvements were won as well in pension, health insurance and a number of other areas," Peterpaul said. "The agreement will protect mechanics against the loss of their work to other employees."

United carries an average 90,000 persons on 1,400 flights daily and up to 130,000 daily during the holiday season.

The union was expected to release the final vote count today. IAM Local 141 in Burlingame - the nation's largest with about 7,500 of the union's 17,000 members - was responsible for compiling the results from 26 polling sites across the country.

Monty Chavez, secretary of Local 141, said the vote was 70 per cent in favor of the new contract.
